Builders Report Housing Upturn As Healthy Sign

Hike In FHA Loan Authority Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Home building may be the bellwether industry which will lead us out of the current business recession.

That optimistic estimate came Monday from President Nels G. Severin of the National Assn. of Home Builders, who said it was based on widespread industry reports of a healthy spurt in building.

Such reports were bolstered by a request from the Eisenhower administration for authority to insure four billion dollars more in home loans under the Federal Housing Administration program.

Albert M. Cole, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, said there has been such a substantial gain in loan applications that FHA's present loan authority may be used up by June 10.

Accordingly, he asked a Senate Banking subcommittee to boost from three billion dollars to seven billions the amount of insurance the FHA could issue between now and June 30, 1959.

Looking ahead, Cole said the administration wants to raise from three billions a year to four billions its request for FHA loan authority in the four years beginning July 1, 1959.

Chairman John Sparkman (D-Ala.) of the subcommittee said he and Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.) would sponsor the necessary resolution.

"I think the Senate will act quickly on it," he said.

Severin gave much credit for the housing gains to this spring's housing law. This made new funds available for mortgages, lowered down payment requirements on some government-insured mortgages and extended the GI home loan program another two years.

Severin said this law should boost new home starts by 100,000 to more than a million this year. There were 991,000 last year. He said the easing of mortgage credit had swift benefits.

"Looking ahead, the optimism is even more pronounced. Sixty-five per cent say the over-all market will be better six months from now," he said.

UAW Officials Map Strategy

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther went into a huddle Monday with top officers of the United Auto Workers to review contract bargaining strategy in the auto industry.

The union described it as a regularly scheduled meeting of the UAW president with his four vice presidents and other key officials.

Negotiations with General Motors Corp. were recessed at noon to permit UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock to attend the meeting at union headquarters.

Woodcock is the union's chief negotiator with GM. The first deadline in current contract talks comes at midnight May 20 when the GM contract expires. The UAW's contracts with Ford and Chrysler expire June 1.

"Perfect Gentleman," 13, Admits Killing Little Girl

EAST HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A 13-year-old "perfect gentleman" has admitted the savage sex slaying of a 6-year-old girl neighbor atop a rocky, wooded knoll called "Murder Hill."

"I'm sorry," police quoted quiet-spoken, slightly built Dana Bragdon as saying after he admitted killing blonde Cathy Palumbo with a rock Sunday.

He said he and Cathy walked into a desolate woods near her home on Mothers Day and began

Flying Dad-Son Team Admits Four Robberies

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—A flying father-son bank robbery team from Utah, caught after robbing the Bank of America branch at Fairfield of $18,000 Monday, have admitted a bank robbery last week at Loomis, Calif., plus three others, the U.S. Attorney's Office reported.

The two men, captured just after the Fairfield holdup Monday morning, were identified as Guy W. Sheldy, 41, and his son, Jerry, 18, of Kearns, Utah.

The Sheldys, who own a flying service in Utah, were held on robbery complaints and bond of $30,000 was set for each.

In Salt Lake City, Sheriff George Beckstead said the elder Sheldy had been identified as one of two men who robbed the Riverton, Utah, branch of the Walker Bank and Trust Co. of $2,710 last Feb. 18. The same branch also had been robbed of $4,700 Oct. 15, 1957, by two men.

Asst. U.S. Atty. C. Joseph Bertin Jr. said the Sheldys signed statements admitting the $2,393 holdup last week of the Bank of America branch at Loomis, in the foothills north of Sacramento.

Other bank jobs admitted by the two, Bertin said, include last year's holdup of the suburban Arden Way branch of the Bank of America at Sacramento and two robberies of a bank in Riverton, Utah.

The pair apparently made their escape last week by driving to a private airstrip near Sacramento and then flying back to Utah in a light plane.

Woodcock is the union's chief negotiator with GM. The first deadline in current contract talks comes at midnight May 20 when the GM contract expires. The UAW's contracts with Ford and Chrysler expire June 1.

Flood Waters Crest In N.C.; One Life Lost

1,000 Flee Homes In Tarboro Area; Guard Is Activated

TARBORO, N.C. (AP)—Swirling flood waters of the Tar River crested Monday after driving about 1,000 persons from their homes.

One death was reported. Treacherous waters about nine miles up stream from Tarboro claimed the life of a farm laborer, Chanes Barnes, 36, of Leggett. Barnes was wading in a flooded field Sunday and drowned when he fell into a deep canal hidden from his view by the muddy water.

Officials estimated it would be about three days before the river would recede sufficiently for the refugees to return to their homes. The flooded area is about 75 miles east of Raleigh.

Preparations were being made to evacuate residents of Harpersville, a low-lying suburb of Kingston on the Neuse River, later this week.

The Weather Bureau forecast the Neuse would crest at Kingston at a depth of around 21 feet, seven above bankful, around Saturday.

Tarboro Mayor Clarence W. Wickham, who made a tour of the Princeville area, a Negro community across the river from Tarboro, said damage in the stricken area would be extensive. He predicted a serious health problem when the river subsides.

Gov. Luther Hodges ordered two officers and 40 men of the Tarboro National Guard unit to active duty. The flood victims also have been receiving around-the-clock aid from volunteer Red Cross workers.

House Group Writing Own Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee slammed the door on further testimony Monday and then set out to write its own version of how the Defense Department should be reorganized.

Indications were the committee measure would give President Eisenhower only a part of the armed services reshaping he has called essential to the nation's security.

Two Republican members of the Armed Services Committee, Reps. Charles S. Gubser of California and Leon H. Gavin of Pennsylvania, protested against public hearings being called off.

Gubser said the American Legion and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce among other organizations wanted to be heard. Gavin contended the group should hear the views of such other potential witnesses as former Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett.

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) stood firm, however, and the witness list was closed.

"I think the committee has sufficient information now to make an intelligent decision," Vinson said. He added that if the committee prolongs its hearings "the press and the country would say the committee is engaged in dilatory tactics."

Vinson is a sharp critic of Eisenhower's reorganization plan, which would give greater authority to the secretary of defense—channeling operational commands through him to the Joint Chiefs of Staff, without the secretaries of Army, Navy and Air Force coming in between.

Committee members in general have indicated they don't oppose control of combat operations in this fashion. But there has been resistance to proposed changes which would reduce the individuality of separate services.

Greek Reds' Election Showing Surprises

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The pro-Western party of Constantine Karamanlis retained an absolute majority in Parliament Monday but a Communist-line party surprisingly bound into second place.

The victory of Karamanlis' right-of-center National Radical Union had been expected. But the success of the Union of the Democratic Left (EDA) and the decline of the Liberals were not.

The EDA, which substituted for the Communist party when it was outlawed in 1947, won only 10 per cent of the votes in the 1951 and 1952 elections. The official count of Sunday's votes gave the party 24 per cent and 78 of the 300 Parliament seats.

Five Drug Concerns Indicted On Vaccine Price-Fix Charges

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—A federal grand jury Monday charged five big drug companies with violating the antitrust laws in the sale of polio vaccine to governmental agencies.

The five were indicted for conspiring to fix prices and eliminate competition in the sale of the vaccine to federal, state and local governments. The bulk of the 125 million dollars of vaccine sold from the time the Salk formula was announced until the end of 1957 went to public agencies.

The firms are: Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis, Ind.; Allied Laboratories, Inc., Kansas City, Mo.; American Home Products Corp., New York City; Merck & Co., Rahway, N.J.; and Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit.

The defendant concerns denied the charges.

Cutter Laboratories of California was also licensed to produce the vaccine but the Justice Department said the company stopped production at the time of the alleged violations. Cutter halted production when questions were raised as to the safety of its product.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen, in charge of the antitrust division, said in Washington: "The indictment returned Monday charges that vaccine producers have combined to submit uniform bids to public agencies, to adopt noncompetitive terms and conditions of sale, and to establish uniform pricing methods.

Price-fixing activities involving such a significant industry and such substantial sales require criminal action by the department."

The indictment said that slightly more than 205-million cubic centimeters of vaccine were produced through 1957 and 104-million cubic centimeters were sold to public authorities. The bulk of these purchases were made under Polio-vaccination Assistance Act of 1953, which provided the allocation of 53 million dollars of federal funds to the states.

Dynamite Damages Negro Family's Home

BESSEMER, Ala. (AP)—A dynamite blast shattered windows in a house where seven Negro children were sleeping early Monday, but none was injured.

Mrs. Dora Mauldin said she heard the explosion about 3 a.m. but did not investigate. She said she awoke again about 5 a.m. and found windows in one of the bedrooms and bathroom in the three-room house broken.

Several boards were knocked off the house and a large hole was discovered near the foundation. She said she could give no reason for anyone placing the dynamite near her house.

Moist-Eyed Gen. O'Neill Selects World War II Unknown Soldier

EPINAL, France (AP)—His name forever lost in the mists of war, an American in a flag-draped casket Monday became the symbol of all Yanks killed in action in Europe and Africa in World War II.

A red and white wreath was placed before the casket by Maj. Gen. Edward O'Neill of St. Albans, Vt., to signify the selection from a silent squad of 13 drawn up in a last formation at the American cemetery.

A military honor guard carried the honored casket away for a trip by warship to the United States. His 12 comrades in arms will remain in Europe in cemeteries granted in perpetuity to the United States.

As O'Neill placed the wreath before the casket—the fifth from the left—a bugler sounded taps. Another bugler far away sounded the nostalgic echo known as silver taps. The skies were gray and a jet plane could be heard in the mist.

There were moist eyes among the ramrod-straight general officers in the reviewing stand when O'Neill, graying 56-year-old veteran of three World War II assault landings, made the selection. His

Beirut Rioters Burn Another USIA Library

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Angry mobs shouting for the downfall of Lebanon's pro-Western government burned another U.S. library Monday. In northern Lebanon, an Iraqi oil pipeline was blown up. Strikes and shootings spread up and down the country.

Rioters smashed through a police guard outside the U.S. Information Agency library in Beirut, hurled books and furniture into the street and set them ablaze. Then they put the torch to the interior.

A general strike brought transportation and business to a standstill Monday. At least four other buildings were set afire. Automobiles were overturned. Rioters and reinforced security forces exchanged fire several times at different points in the city.

At least five persons—including a woman and a child—were reported killed and 20 wounded in this fighting.

The library fire was the second in Lebanon in three days. A mob supported by demonstrators with stolen guns destroyed a USIA library in Tripoli Saturday.

Eleven persons were killed and 116 wounded in the fighting that day with government security forces.

The blasted pipeline carried oil from Iraq across Lebanon and Syria to the Mediterranean for the Iraq Petroleum Co. It had not been fully restored since being wrecked by the Syrian army during the Suez war in 1956.

(Oil circles in New York said a halt in the flow of oil through the line going to Tripoli would have no serious effect on the supply of oil to Europe. They said the Tripoli line was smaller and not as important as the system leading to Banias.)

Reasons for the actions against the library and the Iraq firm were not clear. But pro-West Iraq, a member of the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact, is now merged with the Kingdom of Jordan in the Arab Federation. Nationalist Arabs detest the Baghdad Pact.

Wage And Salary Payments Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wage and salary payments to Americans dropped again in April.

The Commerce Department, reporting this Monday said, however, that personal income rose by 600 million dollars on the strength of unemployment compensation and other government payments.

The rise brought personal income to a rate of $342,800,000,000 a year or 4½ billions below the record of last August, just before the business recession began.

The department said that factory payrolls, at an annual rate of 74 billion dollars last month, were down about 750 million from March because of continued layoffs especially in the auto, machinery, appliance and other durable goods industries.

Compromise Bill Passed By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress voted a big pay raise for the armed forces Monday.

In short order, the House and Senate passed a compromise bill which will give servicemen an extra 576 million dollars the first year of operation.

President Eisenhower is expected to sign the legislation in time for the raises to take effect June 1.

Almost all servicemen with two years or more in uniform would receive increases ranging from 6 to 60 per cent. The biggest raises would go to senior ranks.

The main purpose of the bill, however, is to encourage trained personnel to make the military profession their career.

Responsibility Pay It provides for special responsibility pay for a limited number of officers in ranks from captain to colonel and the naval equivalents, and special proficiency pay for a selected group of noncommissioned officers. These bonuses would range from $50 to $150 a month.

The House accepted most of the changes the Senate made in the measure. These generally reduced the pay scales originally adopted by the House and brought the estimated cost in the first year down by about 107 million dollars.

A conference committee worked out the compromise last week.

Retirement Pay Up The bill contains a six per cent cost-of-living increase in retirement pay now going to some 300,000 retired servicemen. Personnel in the Coast Guard, the Public Health Service and the Coast and Geodetic Survey would also receive raises.

The compromise differs from the Senate bill in only one respect—it would permit a boost in retirement benefits for three- and four-star admirals and generals already on the retired list, at a cost of about $400,000.

Eisenhower has urged higher rates of pay for military personnel as one way of attracting good men into the armed forces and keeping them there.

Jury Seated For Baltimore Police Officials' Trial BALTIMORE (AP)—A jury of seven men and five women was finally seated Monday for the trial of the two top officials of the Baltimore Police Rackets Squad charged with causing two subordinates to commit perjury.

Testimony in the case of Inspector Clarence O. Forrester and Captain Hyman Goldstein will begin Tuesday. Judge Reuben Oppenheimer dismissed the jury shortly after it was seated.

Two hours were spent this morning arguing a defense motion that the entire panel of 150 prospective jurors be dismissed. Judge Oppenheimer dismissed it and most of the afternoon was taken up with challenges as opposing counsel picked the jury.

Trujillo Gave Zsa Zsa Mink, Not Chinchilla HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rafael Trujillo Jr., 29, the Dominican lieutenant general, Monday firmly denied that he bought Zsa Zsa Gabor a $17,000 chinchilla coat.

It wasn't a chinchilla, he said. It was a mink. And he said that it cost "much less" than the figure quoted.

Previously Trujillo—son of the Dominican Republic's dictator—was credited with buying Miss Gabor a $5,400 sports car and actress Kim Novak an $8,400 model.

Trujillo returned to Washington from a 10-day trip to Europe after stopping off in Minneapolis Sunday to deliver a speech.

Nixon, Colombian Foreign Minister Discuss Coffee

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Vice President Nixon and Colombia's Foreign Minister Carlos Sanz de Santa Maria talked coffee Monday.

Both recognized that besides being a popular beverage, coffee is a hard economic fact of life for much of Latin America.

Here in this coffee capital on the next-to-last stop of his South American tour, Nixon said the coffee-consuming United States would want to try to help Colombia and other Latin-American coffee nations stabilize prices.

The foreign minister said coffee rather than money is the actual currency that backs 16 South American economies. He said a 14 per cent drop in the price of Colombian coffee last year cost this nation 100 million dollars.

"We have begged the U.S. government to approach coffee not as an agricultural commodity only BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—An aide to Vice President Nixon said Monday authorities have an unverified report that an attempt might be made to assassinate Nixon in Venezuela Tuesday.

Nixon Monday described the reported threat as routine.

"There will be no change in the schedule or plans," he told reporters at a reception. "We wouldn't change our plans unless the government asked us not to come. If we changed our plans every time something like this came up, we wouldn't do anything. Rumors are always going around like this."

An earlier announcement in Washington said Nixon's bodyguards have been warned to watch out for a possible plot. U. E. Baughman, U.S. Secret Service chief, said he had received the unverified report but his assessment of the situation was that there is "nothing to alarm anyone."

Aide Confirms Disclosure U.S. Embassy officials in Caracas, the Venezuelan capital, said they knew nothing about the report announced in Washington. They said maximum security arrangements have been made and no changes are contemplated. They also declared the assassination report did not originate in Caracas.

William Key, administrative assistant to Nixon, confirmed the Washington disclosure.

"We had reports of the possibility of violence and specifically that an assassination attempt might be made," Key said.

Reds Behind Possible Plot Key, in Bogota with Nixon on the vice president's South American tour, said there had been earlier reports of possible violence at other points, including Bogota and Lima, Peru.

Asked who was behind the reported Caracas plot, Key replied: "communists."

He said the reports came from both Venezuela and the United States.

The aide added that Nixon was "no more concerned than at any other place" about the reports.

Ike And Dulles Study Red Note

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles conferred for 35 minutes Monday, amid reports they are trying to nail down the Soviet Union's stated willingness to talk about safeguards on any nuclear test ban.

Dulles returned to Washington from a 10-day trip to Europe after stopping off in Minneapolis Sunday to deliver a speech.

The State Department hinted a prompt reply to a new Soviet note was in the offing. But first America's allies were being consulted to make sure nobody disagreed.

The note from Soviet Prime Minister Khrushchev was disclosed Saturday. But not until yesterday did Moscow radio publish its contents—agreement to have experts from both sides begin immediately to seek "means of detecting possible violations of an agreement to end nuclear tests."

House Debates Aid Bill; Rayburn Sees No Significant Slash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) predicted Monday the House will pass a foreign aid bill this week with no significant cut.

But Rep. J. L. Pilcher (D-Ga.), a critic of the $3,603,000,000 overseas assistance program for 63 countries, said "I think there's going to be a cut."

The bill's backers took heart from a speedy House voice vote to debate aid. Congressmen took only three minutes out of an allotted hour in formally deciding to take up the bill. This foreshadowed passage expected around Wednesday. Then it's the Senate's turn to act.

Starkweather, Caril Planned To Kill Selves

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Charles Starkweather and Caril Ann Fugate planned to kill themselves at one point in a January slaying rampage, according to a letter read Monday to a jury hearing Starkweather's trial for murder.

Earlier Monday another letter, which Starkweather wrote to his parents from the Douglas, Wyo., jail, was read. It said in part: "I'm not sorry for what I did... The new letter addressed 'for the law only,' was taken from the 19-year-old Starkweather after his arrest in Wyoming, Jan. 29. It was signed 'Chuck S. and Caril F.'"

One portion, purportedly written by Caril, said the girl hit her two-year-old sister about 10 times with a gun.

The body of the baby, Betty Jean Bartlett, was found here Jan. 27, along with the bodies of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bartlett. The grisly discovery set in motion the search for Starkweather and Caril. Caril also has been charged with first degree murder, but has not yet come to trial.

The somewhat disconnected joint letter indicated that Starkweather came to the Bartlett home Tuesday, Jan. 21 and was ordered by Caril's mother, Mrs. Bartlett, to "get out and never come back." A quarrel and the killing of both the Bartletts followed and Caril struck the baby with the gun to stop her from crying.

"Me and Chuck just look at them for about four hours. Then we wrapped them and pulled them for about four hours. Then we wrapped them and pulled them and pulled them out in the house in back...," the letter said. At that point it said the two planned to kill themselves, but people kept coming to the house.

The baby was Steven Floyd, son of Marie Floyd, 21, of 823 Chaplain St., Wheeling, W. Va. Dunbar Charles King, 48, of Pittsburgh, who was riding in the car, and the mother were treated and released.

Police said the mother attempted to pass another vehicle on Route 40 and ran off the road. In an attempt to get the auto back on the highway she veered across the road and hit the post.

Two Marines Fined For Rifling Coin Box

WILLIAMSPORT, Md. (AP)—Two Marines stationed at Ft. Meade, Md., with the security guard at the National Security Agency were fined $100 each Monday for rifling a telephone coin box.

Magistrate Jess Shank imposed fines on Pfc. Elmer J. Bradshaw, 21, West Haven, Conn., and Pvt. Harold E. Kiser, 21, RFD1, Alum Bank, Pa.

State police said the defendants had $70 in coins when they were arrested near an entrance to Ft. Meade. They said the Marines admitted breaking into a coin box along U. S. 40 about three miles from Hagerstown, Md., but denied rifling six other telephone stations along the highway.

Funeral Service Held For Joseph E. Davies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Persons of rank from official life and society attended funeral services at Washington National Cathedral Monday for Joseph E. Davies, diplomat, lawyer and author who served under three presidents.

Davies, former ambassador to Moscow, died last Friday at his 20-room hilltop mansion, Tregaron, a showplace estate not far from the cathedral. He was 81.

Services were conducted by the cathedral dean, Dr. Francis B. Sayre, grandson of President Woodrow Wilson.

It was under Wilson that Davies got his start in political and official life. Wilson's tomb is in the cathedral, just off the nave.

Tuesday the ashes of Davies will be placed in the cathedral columbarium, below Wilson's resting place.

Administration Standing Firm On Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration gave no ground Monday in defending President Eisenhower's hard-pressed reciprocal trade bill.

Asst. Secretary of Commerce Henry Kearns told the House Ways and Means Committee the administration was making no concessions.

The reply paved the way for showdown voting. First amendments to be voted on were expected to be of a technical nature.

The committee halted consideration of the bill last week to give the administration time to propose changes in its original request for a five-year extension and for authority to cut tariffs as much as 25 per cent during that period.

Kearns acknowledged to newsmen after his appearance at a closed committee session that a decision may have to be faced on whether there is to be any trade legislation at all.

Members wanting greater protection for U.S. industry have mustered strong support for putting up higher tariff walls. Industries which contend they are hurt by foreign imports are strongly opposed to the administration measure.

But supporters say the United States sells more abroad than it buys, so must show continued willingness to accept other countries' products.

Ramsburg Nominated For Frederick Mayor

FREDERICK (AP)—Jacob R. Ramsburg, for 20 years a member of the Maryland General Assembly, Monday night was nominated for mayor of Frederick at the Republican Convention.

Ramsburg had announced he would not seek reelection to the State Senate.

He was named to head a ticket which also includes Austin F. Angleberger for city treasurer and four nominees to the Board of Aldermen.

The election will be June 10. John A. Derr, present Republican incumbent, is seeking the nomination for state comptroller. The Democrats will hold their convention tomorrow.

Born Girl, Bearded Briton In Line For Title Claims

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A bearded British doctor whom someday may inherit his brother's baronetcy confirmed Monday that he had been born a girl.

Dr. Laurence Michael Dillon, calmly puffing on a pipe, told a group of reporters of his life that began 43 years ago in London as Laura Maude Dillon.

He said he underwent a series of operations that legally changed his sex after noticing physical changes in himself and undergoing emotional pain.

Dr. Dillon was questioned aboard the liner City of Bath, on which he is medical officer, after his brother, Sir Robert Dillon, 44, said in Lismullen, Ireland, that Dr. Dillon had been a female at birth.

Sir Robert is married but childless. A female can not succeed to his baronetcy, leaving Dr. Dillon next in line for the title.

The sex question was raised by a discrepancy between listings in

Two Accused Bank Robbers Go On Trial

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two men went on trial in Federal Court Monday on charges they got $17,000 by forcing a Washington area teller to open a bank while they held his wife a hostage.

In addition to bank robbery charges, the pair are accused of violating the Federal Hostage Statute which carries a possible death sentence. They also are accused of jeopardizing the life of a 1-year-old teller Clarence E. Cranford of Silver Spring.

A jury of 11 men and one woman was selected for the trial of Tyrus Fields Jones, 28, a welder of Capitol Heights, and Robert W. Princler, 27, a mechanic of Mount Rainier.

They are charged with getting an estimated $17,000 in cash and checks last January 26 from the Marlowe Heights branch of the First National Bank of Southern Maryland.

Asst. United States Attorney John Hargrove, in opening remarks to the jury, gave this account of the robbery:

Cranford and his wife were in their home at 3305 Terrace Dr. when a pair of gunmen in Halloween masks forced their way in after knocking on the door. One man carried a pistol, the other a sawed off shotgun.

Cranford's wife Delores, 20, was ordered to sit in a chair. The couple's 10-month-old son, asleep, was not disturbed.

Cranford was forced to drive one of the bandits, later identified as Jones, to the bank, where the depository was looted. The bandit at the bank then spoke with his partner by telephone and bound Cranford and fled.

After the phone call the second bandit left the Cranford apartment warning Mrs. Cranford to keep

Shocking Crime Rate Increase Cited By Judge

BALTIMORE (AP)—Judge Anselm Sodaro told the Baltimore Grand Jury Monday that crime is increasing at a shocking rate and warned that judges will be handing down stern sentences.

"Justice must be stern as well as fair," he said, "and punishment imposed by judges of Criminal Court will reflect the gravity of the offense."

The judge charged the new grand jury which will meet until early September. He said in part: "Crimes of violence involving assault and robbery and purse snatching are increasing at an alarming rate. These crimes menace the safety and sometimes the lives of peaceful citizens."

Judge Sodaro cited national statistics in pointing up the accelerated crime rate. He said that burglaries reflected the sharpest rise, in major crimes, a 12 per cent increase in 1957 totaling 590,000 cases with losses to victims totaling about 101 million dollars.

Robbers, armed and strong-armed in 1957 took 12 million dollars in money and property from 61,410 victims.

The judge noted that during the first three months of 1958 Baltimore burglaries were up 6 per cent over the same period of 1957; assault and robbery were up 25 per cent and pursesnatching cases jumped 60 per cent.

Graduation Party Warning Sounded

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—A Juvenile Court judge said Monday high school graduation parties shouldn't be allowed to turn into all-night affairs.

Judge Alfred D. Noyes of Montgomery County, who has been in office 12 years, said the activities of teen-agers during such frolics can only lead to trouble and possible court appearances.

"It gives me great alarm and concern when parents let youngsters experience sophisticated and adult things too early in life," he said. "We are letting down the bars slowly for permissiveness far too early in life."

"Those June graduation parties should be kept within reason and certainly should not be all-night affairs."

SKYSCRAPER OVER TRACKS—This is an architect's sketch of the 50-story skyscraper that will be constructed at the rear of Grand Central Terminal (foreground) in New York. When completed in 1961, the $100,000,000 building will have larger capacity than any commercial office building in existence. Its massiveness will be second only to that of the Pentagon. The new building with a floor area of 3,000,000 square feet, will rise over the existing railroad tracks and terminal platforms.

State Prepares To Take Bigger Income Tax Bite

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The State Income Tax Division has set up machinery for taking a bigger tax bite out of your paycheck starting July 1.

It will begin mailing out new tables this week for employers to use in withholding income taxes which were increased 50 per cent by the 1958 Maryland Legislature.

Th rate of tax on ordinary income was boosted from 2 to 3 per cent effective Jan. 1, 1958. But withholding at the increased rate won't go into effect until July 1. That means that next April most Marylanders will owe the state some cash — the one per cent that wasn't withheld from their pay checks during the first six months of 1958.

Benjamin F. Marsh, chief of the Income Tax Division of the comptroller's office, said the new booklets of instructions and 3 per cent withholding tables will go to about 56,000 employers registered with the comptroller's office.

Marsh said each employer should have a copy by June 1. Here are some examples from the new withholding table for weekly payrolls:

With one exemption, at a salary of $50 the amount withheld increases from 64 to 94 cents; at $75, from $1.04 to $1.56; at $100, from $1.46 to $2.19; at $125, from

"Big 4" Rubber Companies Call For Pay Freeze

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The rubber industry's "big four" Monday addressed letters to the United Rubber Workers Union and more than 80,000 employees throughout the country asking for a one-year freeze of current wages and fringe benefits.

Identical full-page letters were sent by B. F. Goodrich Co., Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., and U.S. Rubber Co.

There was no immediate comment from the URW's president, L. S. Buckmaster, to whom the letter was addressed.

"It is, in our opinion, essential to both the immediate and long term welfare of our employees and the company" to freeze wages and fringe benefits, the letter stated.

The letter said a further drop in sales, less production and fewer jobs will be the result of an increase in wages. It called union proposals "exorbitant," and said they would hurt the companies' competitive situation with non-tire plants such as in the plastics industry.

The companies also said an increase in wages could not be accomplished without increasing costs to the consumer.

The average hourly wage scale is $2.85 for Firestone and $2.51 for Goodyear and Goodrich.

Baltimore Span Opened

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore officially opened its $1,414,000 Calvert Street bridge today. Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro cut the ribbon.

Burglars Get $4,400

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Burglars broke open a safe in a dress shop here over the weekend and made off with an estimated $4,400, city police reported Monday.

The burglary was discovered by a clerk when the store, Lane Shops on Main Street, was opened Monday morning. The loss was estimated by store officials, who did not determine immediately how much of it was in cash.

Tot Killed By Car

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ronald Boulware, 3, was fatally injured when struck by a car in front of his home here Monday. He was the District's 18th traffic fatality of the year.

Coroner A. Magruder McDonald listed the death as accidental, stating the child dashed into the path of a passing car driven by Calvin R. Perry, 32. He was not charged.

Water Line Action Is Promised

Dorn Avenue residents, plagued by lack of water pressure, were promised an answer on a possible solution to their problems next Monday when they appeared before the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Mayor Roy W. Eves reintroduced an order which lost by a 2-2 tie vote last week to install a four-inch auxiliary main in an effort to boost the pressure. It was tabled until next week.

Then during the ensuing discussion, Finance Commissioner John J. Long asked if it would be possible to give sufficient pressure by bringing a line off the 18-inch Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company water line which runs through an alley in back of Dorn.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan said he thought the suggestion worthy of exploration and said if it is acceptable, might be able to be paid for out of a bond issue.

Another facet for investigation was bared by Harvey Rowe, a resident of the street, who said that during recent repairs to the Fort Hill reservoir, sufficient pressure was realized when a half-million gallon tank in Constitution Park was pressed into service.

Mrs. Hazel Zembower, 341 Dorn Avenue, told Long that he had said he would support the proposal but had voted against it. Long replied he was in favor of the project and told residents he would support it. But that was before he found out no money was available for the water line, he added. He said he felt residents should have the water line, but it was a question of where the money is to come from.

Royal Arch Masons To Confer Degree

Salem Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, will confer the mark master and past master degree today at 7:30 p. m. at the Masonic Temple, Greene Street.

Thomas Gifford, high priest, will be in charge. Fred A. Gates Jr. will be assisted by Robert Shuck in preparation of refreshments.

Cash Valley House Is Hit By Lightning

A terrific lightning blast tore the corner off a one-story stone home in Cash Valley Sunday afternoon during an electrical storm.

The damage to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Carey on Shortest Day Road just off Cash Valley Road occurred at 4:57 p. m.

In addition to taking off the corner of the house, it knocked a 13-year-old girl to the ground, and disrupted electrical systems and appliances in several nearby homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey and their two daughters were not at home when the bolt hit the house.

The bed in the room hit by the lightning was knocked three feet from the wall. The interior woodwork and plaster was splintered, and the bed itself wrecked.

A child in a neighboring family, Miss Patricia Hess, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hess, Cash Valley Road, was walking through the Carey yard when the bolt hit.

She was knocked to the ground stunned, but upon examination by a doctor no injuries except shock were found.

Wiring round the sockets of the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Izzett next door was burned off and had to be repaired.

Mrs. Izzett said a flash of fire about three feet long flew from

Woman Fined In Fire Case

Mrs. Mary Robeson, Bowling Green, was fined $20 and costs in Trial Magistrate Court Saturday as a result of a forest fire on Haystack Mountain April 15.

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick suspended the fines on the woman.

Mrs. Robeson was charged with failing to provide adequate precautions while burning material in the open and causing fire to woodlands.

The spectacular fire burned over 250 acres of woodlands, according to William H. Johnson, district forester.

Johnson said firemen battled the blaze more than ten hours and remained on the scene 24 hours. Most of the wood was young timber, Johnson said.

Hughes was knocked out. William Lucas has a television set that won't turn off, as the charge fused the switch on it.

The LaVale Volunteer Fire Company was called, but the Carey home did not catch fire.

When time has flown...get it back by phone

It's only natural to forget. Even an important date, or an anniversary, can slip your mind until the very moment is here. Time was, when you forgot an event, there was no quick solution. Today it's no trouble at all to recapture time with a phone call—anywhere, any moment. And that call gives the person you momentarily forgot a pleasant feeling of being remembered. It's such simple everyday things as this that make a telephone so important a part of our daily lives.

What's The Difference?

The difference in price between today's prescriptions and those of 20 years ago can easily be figured. The difference is measured in dimes... sometimes even in dollars. ## Keyser Man Accused Of Car Stripping KEYSER, W. Va. — A 22-year-old local man is free on $1,000 bond pending action of the next Hampshire County Grand Jury on a charge of stealing five radiators and nine batteries from junked cars.

Sgt. W. F. Bowley of the Romney Detachment of West Virginia State Police arrested Edward Gray Saturday night.

He was accused of taking the batteries and radiators from junked cars at the service station owned by George Herriott on Route 28 north of Romney.

He was given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace A. L. Russell in Romney and was freed on bond pending action of the next grand jury.

Sgt. Bowley said Gray incriminated two other men, one of whom is a prisoner in a Pennsylvania jail awaiting action of a grand jury on a similar charge of taking radiators from junked cars.

The bidding:

1 heart Pass 1 no trump Pass
2 spades Pass 2 no trump Pass

Opening lead: Jack of clubs.
The fear that partner might pass induces some sort of psychosis among bridge players. Observe how this worked to our advantage in the hand shown today from the Anglo-American Irish bridge match held in Dublin last winter, as discussed by Ewart Kempson in his current book—"Bridge Match in Dublin"—on which I was somewhat of a collaborator.

Mrs. Sobel and I reached a cozy contract of three no trump. Observe that your reporter made a one no trump response on a hand containing 10 high card points, which is in accordance with the specifications contained in "New Contract Bridge Complete."

Mrs. Sobel rebid only two spades, for the reverse call is treated with great respect in our methods. I might at this point have jumped to three no trump but did not see that there was much to be gained by such procedure, for my values in the minor suits might not come into play. I rolled along with a bid of two no trump which Mrs. Sobel carried on to three.

The opening lead was the jack of clubs and when the defense failed to cash their high diamonds after getting in with the queen of hearts I made 12 tricks.

Blue Angels Corps Plans Anniversary

Parades, Contests
Being Arranged

WESTERNPORT — The Blue Angels Drum Corps, sponsored by Victory Post 155, American Legion, is making elaborate plans for a week-long third anniversary celebration, according to James Wills, director.

The week of June 22-28 has been selected to commemorate the winning of 50 first prize awards out of 57 parades in which the Drum Corps has participated. The group was organized three years ago and has paraded and performed in towns and cities throughout Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

There will be queen's contest for the title of "Miss Blue Angel." Young women between the ages of 16 and 25 years, and living not more than eight miles from the Tri-Towns, are eligible to compete. Rebecca Fazenbaker, Margie Frankland, Marlene Sullivan, Florence Tinsley and Sandra Hill have already entered the event.

Little Queen Contest

There will also be a Little Queen contest open to girls from four to eight years of age. Coronations will take place Sunday, June 21, at 6 p.m. on grounds of Westernport Elementary School. All candidates for "Miss Blue Angels" and "Little Queen" will meet at the home of Victory Post today at 1:30 p.m., and rules will be explained.

The program for the week will also include band concerts, baby contests, dances, games, firemen speed drills, firemen precision speed drills, Drum Corps exhibitions, old-fashioned parade, Legionnaire parade, float parade, grand feature parade, and a carnival and rides. Cash prizes amounting to $975 in parade awards have been announced. The program follows:

Old-fashioned parade Monday, June 23, at 7:30 p.m.; Tuesday, June 24, at 7 p.m. a firemen's speed drill exhibition, hose and hookup, for which a trophy will be awarded; float parade Wednesday, June 25, at 7 p.m., including old cars and decorated bicycles.

Group To Meet

Legionnaires, Veterans of Foreign Wars members and their auxiliaries parade Thursday, June 26, at 7 p.m.; firemen's drill exhibitions of 16 men Friday, June 27, at 7 p.m.; grand feature parade with $800 in cash prizes Saturday, June 28, at 1 p.m. with these awards: First place Drum Corps $250; second place $100; first place band $100; second place band $50; first place high school band $75; second place $50; first place fire company $50; second place $25; first place Junior Drum Corps $75 and second place $25.

Invitations are being issued to the state commander of the American Legion and officers of the Department of Maryland, American Legion. Over 400 organizations will be invited to participate.

A meeting of businessmen will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. to make plans for an "Old-Fashioned Day Parade and Sale."

Applications to take part in the event must be returned not later than June 18.

Randolph Urges Study Of Languages

WILLIAMSTOWN, W. Va. — Senatorial candidate Jennings Randolph told high school graduates at commencement exercises held Monday night that Americans should study more foreign languages to provide the best basis for world peace.

The former congressman, who is one of four Democrats seeking the party's nomination for the unexpired term of the late Sen. M.M. Neely, said the language barrier was a "tragic block to understanding and mutual respect among vast segments of the earth's population."

Randolph pointed out how the Russians were surpassing Americans in the acquisition of languages.

"Russians are far ahead of us in this phase of education. We are approximately 10,000,000 studying the English language. This is in contrast with only a few thousand persons in the United States who are studying the Soviet language."

He said that only 300 of the 8,000 young people who qualified within the past ten years for the United States Foreign Service could speak and write the Russian language.

Order 20 Years Late
KELWOOD, Man. — Two violin strings and a guitar pick ordered from a mail order house in January 1938 have just arrived for Alex Thompson, now dead. His son said he was told they had been found behind the paneling of a railway baggage car.

SRC Seeking Bids On Road

The State Roads Commission is receiving bids for the improvement and surfacing of a two-and-a-half mile section of Route 135, now a dirt road that leads southwesterly from the Bloomington-Swanton Road and connects with State Route 38 to Kitzmiller.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the SRC, said the road is being planned for several reasons. It will provide a much shorter route for residents of the Kitzmiller area who travel to Cumberland.

It will also give residents of the Oakland area a new route to Cumberland and provide a much easier grade.

The highway will also eliminate the necessity of using the B&O Railroad crossing at Swanton which is on the route now used.

The new road will be 2.561 miles long. It was used as a detour in one stage of the construction of the Bloomington-Swanton Road several years ago. The road branches off to the left of the Bloomington-Swanton Road atop the mountain just before the roadway starts downgrade to Swanton.

Young Housebreaker Wounded By Police

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of four housebreakers was wounded by police while fleeing a northeast Washington pharmacy early Monday.

A second youth was captured shortly after the incident, hiding in the store's refrigerator.

Officers said the wounded boy, a 16-year-old escapee from a Children's Center at Laurel, was treated at a hospital for a slight flesh wound.

In America more than 90 percent of new car production is distributed at home while Britain exports six of every 10 cars produced.

OFFICER MANGES

Police Officer Retires Here

Officer Charles D. Manges, of 47 Lamont Street, this morning wrapped up his final day with the Cumberland Police Department after more than 29 years of service.

Officer Manges, who was one of the oldest members of the department, will take a two-week vacation before his retirement becomes effective.

Manges joined the Police Department on November 24, 1928 and has worked the "cat-eye" shift since it was started back in 1936.

The veteran officer joined the force when it had about one-half the number of men it has today and worked 10-hour shifts.

Young Named To Knights Committee

Arthur F. Young, 432 Greene Street, past faithful navigator of Chief Justice Taney General Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, has been named chairman of the credentials committee of the state organization.

Host to the biennial convention Sunday was Sancta Maria Council of Carrollton, Baltimore City. Others attending from the local assembly were Joseph Webb and Carl Firlie, past faithful navigators. James F. Quinn, faithful pilot and past grand knight of Frostburg Council 1442, who attended as an alternate to James F. Condon, faithful navigator.

Mr. Young will be assisted by Irvin Dill of Carroll Assembly and Austin Thomas, faithful navigator of the Frederick Assembly.

William Saunders, faithful nav-igator of Carroll Assembly, heads the resolutions committee and will be assisted by Mr. Quinn and Vernon Eckhard, faithful navigator of Westminster Assembly.

Nominations for Master of the Maryland Assemblies forwarded to the Supreme Master of the Knights of Columbus are John Nagel Jr. of Carroll Assembly; J. Donald Murray of Chief Jusscholar at W&L during the current semester.

Two More Lectures

This was the 13th in a series of 15 Friday afternoon lectures which Dr. Toynbee is making in Lexington. Dr. Toynbee was director of studies at the Royal Institute of International Affairs and research professor of international history at the University of London from 1925 until his retirement in 1955.

Dr. Toynbee told his audience that the march of technology and the flight from the land to the cities is a world-wide movement. He remarked that at one time cities and mines were both "death traps" but the expansion of public health programs has curbed disease in the cities to a large extent.

Many cities are expanding at phenomenal rates for economic reasons. In that connection he used Saudi Arabia with its post-World War II oil developments as an illustration. Before oil, there were only two cities in Saudi Arabia which were not cities for economic reasons, Mecca and Medina were cities because they are the holy cities of Islam. Today there are four "American" cities in Saudi Arabia which have sprung up near the oil fields. Dr. Toynbee called them as American as any city in Southern California.

Australia and Iceland are two other far-distant countries in which 40 per cent of the people live in major cities. Forty per cent of Australia's 10,000,000 inhabitants live in Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane. In Iceland, 40 per cent of the nation's 160,000 reside in Reykjavik.

The Farms Suffer

This city-ward surge is so great in some countries, Dr. Toynbee said, that not enough people are left to keep up the agriculture. He singled out Mexico, Ecuador and Peru as three illustrations.

Some cities, however, are growing for non-economic reasons. The British historian said he has observed that in recent years, capital cities throughout the world are growing because of a growth of bureaucracy. Washington and Rome were cited as illustrations.

Public insecurity on the land is still another reason that cities have grown. In lands torn by revolution the people flock to the cities in hope that some order might prevail. Hong Kong, the British crown colony, has grown to 2,000,000 with the exodus of refugees from Communist China. The grimness of the refugee cities, the speaker said, is Calcutta, which has swollen to 6,000,000 with the swarm of refugees from East Pakistan. In this mass of humanity, Dr. Toynbee observed, some people live their entire lives on the sidewalk, for there is no place else for them to go.

Shepherdess And A Watch
The United States started this triumph of technology, and Japan has mastered technology to a greater degree than any other nation on earth. But technological changes have been felt even by the most backward people. On the Syrian desert, cars and trucks are being utilized by the tribes. Even the backward Bedouins, who have been nothing but sheep-herders for thousands of years, are making some progress. Dr. Toynbee said he saw a Bedouin shepherd woman holding two lambs such as her ancestors had done for generations. But even she was wearing a wrist watch.

Man's greatest need today is to master human nature, the historian observed. These masses who have moved to the cities are waking up to the appeals from three ideologies. They are nationalism, democracy and communism.

These material ideologies still do not satisfy man's needs, for he still cannot do without the traditional religions—Christianity, Islam, Buddhism and Hinduism.

These closing comments before a question-and-answer period apparently laid the groundwork for his final two lectures. "Nationalism, Democracy, Communism" is his topic for May 16. For May 23, "The Religions of Asia" will be his topic.

Two Westvaco mills, one at Tyrone, Pa., and another at Williamsburg, are open for formal tours by convention visitors.

Theme of the conference is "Coating Formulations and Viscosity Measurement of Coatings."

Attendance is expected to include coating representatives from paper mills throughout the United States and some foreign countries, including Canada, Japan and Europe.

Paper Coating Conference Opens Tonight

The ninth annual paper coating conference of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry opens tonight at Bedford Springs Hotel, Bedford, with registration of the first of 600 to 650 people who are expected to attend.

Convention sessions get underway tomorrow morning and wind up Friday afternoon. The annual banquet will be held Thursday night with Pete Martin, senior editor of the Saturday Evening Post, as speaker.

West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company is taking an active part in the conference. Employees from the Luke mill who will participate are John D. Lohnas, project leader in the Technical Service Department, who is local arrangements chairman; Dr. John G. Leech, director of the Research Laboratory, a member of the program committee; Alvin R. Pence, supervisor of machine coating, a member of the registration committee, and Harry F. Kohne, Jr., a member of the Research Laboratory staff, who will present a technical paper.

"When I was a member of Congress, I prevented the closing down of the Bainbridge Naval Training Station because I took vigorous action as a member of the House Appropriations Committee. Maryland's Republican senators have lost the training school at Bainbridge, plus other important installations and have done nothing to prevent what has happened at Indian Head.

"Thirty-five per cent of the members of the Senate today are men with whom I served in the House of Representatives, personal friends of mine who I know will back me in seeing that Maryland receives fair and just treatment."

D'Alesandro also asked the gathering to support Tawes, Goldstein and Sybert.

Fastest Pigeon Race Is Staged

The fourth old bird race of the Allegany Racing Pigeon Club proved to be the fastest race of the current series as the first pigeon homed in three hours and 19 minutes on the 175-mile flight from Athens, Ohio.

First place was won by Mom's Bow from the Town View Loft of Galen Beeman with an average speed of 1,482.48 yards per minute. Right behind was No. 2030 from the Gilmore Loft of A. A. Ambrose with an average of 1,473.64 yards per minute.

Others in the top ten were The Eagle from the Exello Loft of M. M. Green, 1,462.86 yards per minute; No. 237, also of the Gilmore Loft, 1,463.63 yards per minute; Black Jack from the Lost Loft of Dudley Shafer, 1,462.60 yards per minute; Red Star from the MacArthur Loft of C. A. Smith, 1,453.66 yards per minute; Corn, also from Exello Loft, 1,452.96 yards per minute; Kansas City Silver, also from MacArthur Loft, 1,452.61 yards per minute; Little Pet from Galla Loft of Charles Buskirk, 1,436.93 yards per minute; and Norma J. also from Town View Loft, 1,434.70 yards per minute.

Twelve lofts with 146 birds competed in the 175-mile flight.

Next race will be a special yearling race for birds raised in 1957, a 225-mile flight from Chillicothe, Ohio.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

FORD SUNLINER... America's glamorous, best-selling soft top

FORD SKYLINER... World's only retractable hardtop

Why people who love CONVERTIBLES buy FORD

Only Ford lets you choose from a steel-top convertible or a fabric-top beauty. Who else but Ford... world's largest convertible maker... could offer you two different kinds of convertibles. There's the fabric-top Ford Sunliner and the steel-top Ford Skyliner... world's only retractable hardtop. They're both styled and powered in the Thunderbird tradition. You'll see at a glance why they're both the value leaders of the convertible world.

Nowhere else can you find so much convertible for so little money. Take the Ford Sunliner for example. A comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices shows it's America's lowest-priced convertible. And it's the only one in its field with a double-stitched, double-sealed, fade-resistant top. What's more, even Ford's closest competitor can't touch the Sunliner for rear seat leg room, trunk space or ease of top operation. As for the Skyliner, it's the world's only 2-in-1 fine car... a snug steel-top and a breezy convertible. Just touch a button. The all-steel top vanishes smoothly into the rear deck... and you're sitting pretty in the smartest convertible ever. It's another example of the advanced engineering you get in every Ford car.

So if you're the sun-worshiper type, better see your Ford Dealer and get all the reasons why Ford outsells its nearest competitor in convertibles by a whopping 2-to-1 margin! Discover for yourself why Ford is tops in "top-downer" value.

Is Dairy Farming Looking Up?

Is it true what Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson says about these "self-help" dairy industry bills? He charges that they aren't really of the "self-help" variety at all, but would give an independent industry board, instead of the Department of Agriculture, "authority to conduct (price support) programs for dairy products.

Well, how is the Department carrying out the present dairy price-support programs? Answers to these two questions are explored by a House Agriculture subcommittee in three days

On March 21, the very day on which Congress adopted a bill—later vetoed by President Eisenhower—to freeze price supports and acreage allotments, Benson ordered dairy price supports reduced as of April 1. The reduction as announced lowered them to 75 per cent of parity, the legal floor, from previous levels of 80 to 83 per cent.

This originally had meant a price of 56.2c a pound for butterfat, as against 58.6c in 1957; $3.03 per hundredweight for manufacturing milk, as against $3.25. The Department subsequently said, March 31, that higher parity prices indicated an additional 3c per hundredweight for manufacturing milk and 0.4c a pound for butterfat.

Secretary Benson announced on May 1 that the 1957 cash receipts by farmers from dairy products sales were $4.6 billion, highest on record. And his Department estimates that 1958 milk production is likely to exceed—because of higher output per cow—by a billion pounds the 126.4 billion pounds of 1957, the fifth consecutive record high.

These Days

The Letter Writers

Many are surprised at the voluminous correspondence of the Russians in these days. This is nothing new Stalin and Roosevelt carried on an extensive correspondence. Many of the letters are published for the years between 1941 and 1945. It is interesting, in view of the bitterness of the Kremlin toward the United States, that Stalin wrote Roosevelt on November 4, 1941:

"Your decision, Mr. President, to grant the Soviet Union an interest-free loan to the value of $1,000,000,000 to meet deliveries of munitions and raw materials to the Soviet Union is accepted by the Soviet government with heartfelt gratitude as vital aid to the Soviet Union in its tremendous and onerous struggle against our common enemy—bloody Hitlerism."

That heartfelt gratitude did not long remain in Russian memory. By February 18, 1942 Stalin is more pushing and demanding, as, for instance, this letter:

"I have received your message about U. S. arms deliveries in January and February. I stress that it is now, when the peoples of the Soviet Union and their army are bending their energies to throw the Hitler troops back by a tenacious offensive, that U. S. deliveries, including tanks and aircraft, are essential for our common cause and our further success."

However, when we came through with another billion dollars, it was received with "sincere gratitude." It is interesting to note in this correspondence how Roosevelt tries to jockey Stalin into a three-man summit conference and how adroitly Stalin dodges. He cannot leave the Soviet Union because events are so pressing, but he does not, in 1942, invite the President or Churchill to visit him in Moscow. Also when Roosevelt offered to send planes to Siberia, Stalin countered with the proposal that the planes go to Nome, Alaska, where Russian pilots would take over. Roosevelt wanted to send American and British planes and crews to the Caucasus, but Stalin turned this down. He said:

"A feature of the Soviet Air Force is that we have more than enough pilots but suffer from a shortage of machines."

Stalin was willing to take planes and machinery, but he wanted no American personnel in Siberia or Russia. Note this, on January 13, 1943:

"As to sending bomber units to the Far East, I have already pointed out in my previous messages that what we need is not air force units, but planes without pilots, because we have more than enough pilots of our own. Secondly, we may need your help in the way of aircraft not in the Far East where the U.S.S.R. is not in a state of war, but on the Soviet-German front, where the need for aircraft aid is particularly great.

"I was rather surprised at your proposal that General Bradley should inspect Russian military objectives in the Far East and elsewhere in the U.S.S.R. It should be perfectly obvious that only Russians can inspect our military objectives, just as U. S. military objectives can be inspected by none but Americans. There should be no uncertainty in this matter.

"Concerning General Marshall's visit to the U.S.S.R. I must say I am not quite clear about his mission. Kindly advise me of the purpose of the visit so that I can consider the matter with full understanding and reply accordingly."

It would seem that this letter should have indicated to President Roosevelt that Stalin was not an ally but was fighting his own war in his own way in total disregard of his so-called allies who had already done so much for him and his country. However, Roosevelt persisted in his efforts toward building his Grand Alliance.

The letters provide one amazing clue to Russian policy: it is all take and no give. Stalin accepts everything; he gives nothing. He makes not a single concession but he is prepared to accept anything that is lying around loose.

Much correspondence passed between Stalin and Roosevelt on the Polish question. As one reads these letters now, it is clear that Stalin had no intention of permitting a free Poland to come into existence.

Long before the war was over, Stalin showed not only his cloven hooves but his hellish horns. These two volumes of letters, edited by the Commission for the Publication of Diplomatic Documents of the Russian Foreign Office, are well worth reading.

'But I Tell You I'm Standing On The Bottom'

Mr. McElroy's Argument For Better Defense

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON In a quiet talk the other day, Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy made the best argument that has yet been heard for his highly controversial bill reorganizing his vast department.

"I can't see anything ahead," he said, "but an increasing American defense effort, unless there is a pretty sharp and unexpected change in the world picture. The greatest economy, the greatest efficiency, will not keep costs from going up as the effort increases. So it's only common-sense to try to get a hundred cents worth of fighting power for every dollar we lay out."

This is a sort of talk very different from the talk of the other great reorganizers the Eisenhower administration has recruited from the ranks of big business. Under McElroy's predecessor, Charles E. Wilson, the unit cost of American defense rose enormously while spending dropped. The alleged "economics" caused a catastrophic decline in America's relative strength. And Wilson just went on repeating fatuously, "the Russians aren't ten feet high."

Wilson, one finally had to conclude, would not have understood the harsh facts of the world power balance, even if he had been ordered to study them carefully by Harlow Curtice or Alfred Sloan. In contrast, a really powerful intelligence was part of the remarkable equipment of Wilson's real master in government, former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey. But Humphrey just did not believe anything that was not told him by an industrialist of a rank equal to his own, and this limited his intake of world-strategic facts.

McElroy came to government with no greater preparation than Humphrey or Wilson. Yet McElroy has already understood and faced up to the two grim, central facts that the others always refused to face. He has realized that the Soviet system has its own terrible kind of efficiency, as a brutal machine for increasing the brute power of the state. And he has realized it is unsafe not to match increasing Soviet power with increasing American power.

"Today we may be about in balance," he says earnestly. "But I'm terribly concerned about tomorrow. Really, there are only two alternatives—increased effort on our part, or decreased effort on the Soviets' part. Maybe the Soviet leaders will decide they have to give more to their own people, which will mean less for heavy industry and arms. But I doubt it very much. If they don't make this decision, then we are going to have to choose between accepting a position of dangerous inferiority, or pulling in our belts and intensifying our own effort.

"It's a contest between two different kinds of social organization, one organized for the welfare of the individual, and the other wholly organized to strengthen the state. Thank God, our system got there first, so we've had a margin. But at least on their chosen ground, the challenge of the other system is now very serious. It's an interesting contest—or rather it would be, if we weren't involved in it so completely. Interesting is hardly the word when you're playing for keeps."

As these remarks suggest, there is a philosophical side to this large, solid, unpretentious man who left a big job and a comfortable life for a small Washington apartment and the almost unbearable burden of the Defense Department. His surface is bland enough, although he can be sardonically humorous. He claims no miraculous results for his defense-reorganization bill, saying flatly that the value of any reorganization "depends on the people you get to fill the slots." But under the surface, McElroy is also determined and even combative, about his bill as well as his job.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Harry Truman forgot his 1952 diagnosis of unemployment being a healthy relapse.

At that time Harry said three million hands could take their days off sixty or no count.

By the time they ran pool on the hard-boiled eggs the recession would be behind the towel rack.

It seems to be different when the shoe is Republican and the other foot is Democratic.

But Harry is right about a couple of million workers always punching the time-clock with a billiard cue. There's easy that many who can't get hired because of various fetishes and quirks of the employment agent.

When I worked for Munsey he wouldn't hire a short, fat man for all the tea in his Mohawk Stores.

Tops for the course was Sir Henry Irving casting for a tragedy. He told five hundred hungry applicants that the role called for an actor with a round-shouldered brother.

So there's multitudinous reasons for loafing. And in May it's too bad there's one for working.

Parents' Baby Talk Slows Child's Learning

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

does not use vowels consistently or the consonants p, b, m, w, and h. By age 4½, most youngsters add t, d, n, g, k, ing, and j sounds. F comes a year later and the 6½ year old has mastered v, th, zh (azure), sh (show), and l. The remaining consonants come the following year.

The child who talks at 18 months is precocious. Most youngsters are saying muh-muh-muh at this age, which soon becomes ma-ma—with help. But there is no need to be concerned about the boy or girl who cannot talk intelligently until the third year.

When a child's speech is seriously limited or clumsy by age 3½, the hearing should be checked by the physician. Simple tests can be conducted in the home. If he recognizes the parents' voice or turns around when someone behind him claps or whistles, the chances are good that hearing is not impaired.

When a 3½ year old is retarded in speech, the parents should not procrastinate thinking he will outgrow the difficulty. At this stage, the defect could be a sign of generalized retardation in other skills. Absence of speech is likely to be the result rather than the cause of retardation.

The majority of physicians are not trained in speech correction. As a result, a qualified speech correctionist should be consulted, preferably one who is a member of the American Speech and Hearing Association.

ORPHAN GERMS D. T. writes: Did you ever hear of an orphan virus? If so, what is it?

REPLY Yes. These are the ECHO (enteric cytopathogenic human orphan) viruses. These organisms are not related to other viruses that have been classified; hence the name, orphan. Respiratory symptoms resembling the flu appear and include fever, headache, vomiting, pain in the back, sensitivity to light, and a rash. Some cases resemble polio or meningitis.

Rep. Harris Quashes Investigation Of 'Assistant President' Adams

By Jack Anderson

Adams Intervened

(Editor's note — Drew Pearson is now reporting on what progress Moscow may have made among our NATO allies. While he is abroad the Washington end of the column is written by his assistant, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON—Now that the public clamor has died down, Congressman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) has quietly called off the investigation of the second most powerful man in the government—President Eisenhower's crisp, curt little overseer, Sherman Adams.

Adams' name flashed across the front pages momentarily during the great blow-up that followed Dr. Bernard Schwartz's ouster as chief counsel of the House subcommittee investigating scandals in the regulatory agencies. In his parting blast, Schwartz accused Adams of bringing White House pressure on the agencies.

After Congressman Harris took charge of the investigation, he brushed aside two letters Adams wrote to Vice President Nixon's campaign manager, Murray Chotiner, in behalf of North American Airlines. This firm had hired Chotiner to straighten out its troubles with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Now Harris has slammed the file shut on a more explosive case involving Adams and has ordered committee sleuths to find someone else to investigate. However, this column has picked up the case that Harris dropped. Here are the facts he wants to suppress:

Federal Trade Commission records show that Adams intervened to help textile tycoon Bernard Goldfine, who got in trouble with Uncle Sam for mislabeling wool products. After Adams poked his sharply chiseled nose into the case, Goldfine was excused from further investigation with an admonition not to violate the law again.

But in less than nine months he was caught pulling the same old tricks. This time the FTC attorney in the case, Charles Canavan, recommended criminal proceedings for "willful and deliberate flouting of the law."

Again Adams came to the rescue with a phone call to FTC Chairman Edward Howrey, asking him to see Goldfine. The textile baron and his son, Horst, showed up in Howrey's office on April 14, 1955, for a confidential conference. At the end of the meeting, Goldfine blurted: "Please get Sherman Adams on the line for me."

Then, in front of the FTC officials, he made a great show of his friendship with the assistant president.

"I am over at the FTC," Goldfine boomed. "I have been treated very well over here. Thanks for arranging the appointment."

Wields Power

The FTC officials couldn't help but be impressed with "Sherm the firm" Adams, a slight, gray-haired man, craggy as the rocks and as severe as the winters in his native New Hampshire. As like's chief of staff, Adams wields more power than any non-elected official in American history. The President seldom approves a paper that doesn't have Adams' "OK, SA" scribbled on the bottom.

Although he isn't legally a member, Adams sits in on the policymaking meetings of the Cabinet and the National Security Council. He arbitrates differences between Cabinet officers, decides who shall be admitted to see the President and runs the White House staff.

His friendship with Goldfine has been something of a mystery. It is known that Goldfine contributed to Adams' past political campaigns for governor and congressman in New Hampshire. Most of Adams' neat, gray suits were also made in Goldfine's mills.

The most startling description of their relationship, however, was given by John Fox, former publisher of the Boston Post, who charged in Federal Court last month that Goldfine

Adenauer's Prophecy

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK, May 12—(INS)—If the reports are true that Red China is supporting the "foes" of Nikita Khrushchev in the Kremlin, a long-range prophecy of Chancellor Adenauer is coming due ahead of time. We don't think it is.

Last month Adenauer told the Hearst reportorial team in Bonn that, unknown to the world in general, Khrushchev was having serious economic troubles at home and—at some unspecified future date—the Soviet Union would find that its Red Chinese puppet had grown into a territory-eating dragon. The old German statesman foresaw a day when Russia might turn to the west in anguish and seek protection and aid in order to survive the assaults of a border nation which now has 600,000,000 (to Russia's 200,000,000) and a birthrate of 12,000,000 a year.

Nobody in the West really knows what is happening behind the high Kremlin wall. The story of Khrushchev's reported troubles with Mao Tse-Tung came out of Warsaw, a listening post to be sure but hardly the most sensitive. Right now, it would seem to even a casual observer, the Soviet armed forces could knock out Red China in a couple of days at most, or at least crush its leadership.

There is no reason to believe that Khrushchev has any such thing in mind, nor could he sell it to his people (after selling them all that peace talk) without a direct Chinese attack or strong threat. On top of all, Mao Tse-Tung looked quite content and pleased to be a part of the Communist team when he was partying around Moscow last November and signing the solidarity manifesto.

There are bound to be differences of opinion within the Communist world, especially during the reign of a leader who tends to pack his enemies off to the provinces rather than shoot them. Khrushchev seems to be going along the line that might be summed up this way: "Let's have peace, build up our consumer and export goods, link the satellites closer together economically, play down the iron fist of the Red Army that polices the empire, and keep people steamed up and working by telling them the U. S. is building up its military strength to attack them."

Here and there along that line he'll run into a bullheaded Tito, who may be flirting for another American loan. Or he'll measure the religious freedom he reluctantly gave to Poland (plus the embezzled $6,788,819 from the Boston Port Development Corp. because Sherman Adams was "in his pocket." "I asked Mr. Goldfine how it was possible for him to keep on embezzling, which he admitted he was doing, and how it was possible for him, how he dared to do this in the face of the regulations of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission," Fox told the court. "He told me that as long as he had Sherman Adams in his pocket he could do it."

Yet Congressman Harris, who is supposed to be investigating both the FTC and the SEC, has instructed his investigators to lay off Adams.

Case Chronology

Here is the revealing chronology in the Goldfine case, taken from files which Harris has now locked in his safe:

November 12, 1953—Investigation of Goldfine was started by FTC investigator Robert Scott.

December 30, 1953 — Adams called Howrey about the case. The FTC Chairman asked for a full report which was submitted to him the same day.

February 5, 1954—Adams called Howrey's office again. David Murchison, Howrey's assistant, asked for another memo on the case. This memo, signed by Harvey Hannah, chief of the Wool Branch, declared: "It is felt that the matter pertaining to (Goldfine's) failure to disclose small percentage of nylon in certain fabrics may be closed."

October 6, 1954 — Despite a pledge from Goldfine not to mislabel his textiles, complaints were received that he was doing it again.

March 30, 1955—Joseph Klein, manager of the FTC's New York office, reported on Goldfine's alleged violations.

April 14, 1955—Adams arranged an appointment for Goldfine to see Howrey. Conference was held in Howrey's office.

March 13, 1956—FTC attorney Charles Canavan recommended criminal proceedings against Goldfine.

July 20, 1956—The Commission decided not to press criminal charges.

This column contacted Howrey and Murchison, who had only a hazy recollection of the case. Both described Sherman Adams' calls as routine "status requests." Although Adams made personal but infrequent calls to their office, he did not try to influence them, Murchison said.

This column also invited Goldfine's comment, but he had nothing to say. It remains to be seen who will have the last say.

decollectivization of four-fifths of its farms) against the increased production of that country and the cooperation of the militant Catholic population. Or he'll throw Hungary a few more crumbs. If the old Stalinists get too tough on him, and show the faintest sign of de-horsing him, he'll shoot somebody—probably one of the complaining old Stalinists after what Pravda will call a fair and impartial trial.

He's no dummy, this Khrushchev. He survived 40 years in that jungle, living through purges where the death penalty was passed for looking cockeyed at a chalk bust of Stalin. Once, when Big Brother was watching how he handled things in the Ukraine, Khrushchev ordered the deaths of 3,500 farmers and petty officials. Stalin gave him a raise. Slowly, surely, he built up his own organization in the inner sanctum of the great conspiracy. Most of the Presidium members are in his pocket. The Central Committee backed him in the showdown against Molotov and Malenkov, knowing their own lives would be in jeopardy if he lost. Mikhail Suslov, the top party theoretician, has been named as one who may be giving him the willies these days (assuming somebody is.) Suslov acted like an office boy following Khrushchev around, when we saw them.

It's true I picked Custer over the Indians, but it seems hard to believe that a possible Red Chinese desire for more blood-letting, or an occasional Bronx cheer from Tito, could cause the downfall at this time of a man under whose dictatorship was born the Sputnik and a new and wholehearted respect for Russian science, engineering and educational strides where little or none existed before. Like it or not, you'll have Khrushchev around—blowing hot and cold and sometimes medium—for another five or even ten years.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Art Van Horn relays a story about a traveling salesman who got lost in the feudin' country near the Blue Ridge mountains and found refuge with two hillbillies who never had been more than a mile from their primitive shack.

When the salesman left the next day, he gave his hosts a portable radio as a token of appreciation for their hospitality. That night one of the hillbillies, out of curiosity, fiddled with the radio dials. After fumbling with them, he tuned in a speechmaker at a political rally.

At bedtime the politician still was roaring over the radio and the mountaineers didn't know how to turn it off. In desperation one of them picked up an ax and struck the set. The voice stopped. However, it had only jarred the set and the next morning the second hillbilly was awakened by organ music from the radio. He woke his pal.

"You know that guy you killed last night?" he said. "Well, they're burying him today."

Potomac State Posts 10th Win, Tops Frostburg, 5-1

Barlow Bags 7th Straight, Whiffs Nine

● Catamounts Cop 4th In Row; Helminski Is Fielding Star

Brinkley "Bink" Barlow, freshman pitching sensation of Potomac State College, notched his 7th consecutive victory of the season yesterday when Coach John Fox's Catamounts defeated Frostburg State Teachers College at Stayman Field, Keyser, by the score of 5-1.

The Cheltenham, Pa., southpaw, yielded an unearned run in the first inning and pitched shut-out ball thereafter. He scattered eight hits, struck out nine and issued only two bases on balls.

Frostburg advanced runners to third base in the 7th and 9th frames but was unable to score.

Carl Donald obtained three hits and Ronnie Young hit safely twice for the Bobcats.

Three of Potomac State's five blows were two-base belts by Dick Wickline, John Olcott and Ed Helminski. The latter excelled at short with several nice stops and handled five chances without a slipup. In the 8th, Nolan's hard shot through the infield bounded out of "Skip" Delligatti's glove and Helminski recovered the ball and threw out the batter for the game's fielding highlight.

Barlow had beaten Ashland, Ohio, 5-2, Shepherd, 8-3, West Virginia Freshmen, 11-4, Alderson-Broadus 14-5, Newport News Apprentice, 10-4, and Hagerstown Junior College, 8-1, prior to yesterday's triumph.

The victory was the fourth in a row for Potomac State and gives the Catamounts an overall mark of 10-5-1 for the campaign.

Potomac State has beaten Frostburg State twelve consecutive times since the Bobcats' last win in 1951.

The Catamounts play at Davis & Elkins, Wednesday, at Shepherd College, Saturday, and meet the West Virginia University Freshmen at Keyser on Monday.

Cincinnati Sends Pinson To Seattle

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vada Pinson, who was a Cincinnati Redleg spring training sensation, was sent to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League Monday on a 24-hour recall basis.

The 19-year-old Pinson, who was trying to make the long jump to the majors from Class C minor league competition all in one hop, had played right field for the Redlegs most of the time since the season started but he hadn't been able to solve major league pitching and was hitting only .194.

$1,000,000 Idea Man

MR. F. SCHIAVONE

A big, $1,000,000 idea to help speed the return of prosperity has been announced by the Aetna Finance manager here.

Throughout America, he pointed out, people are being urged to "Buy Now" and help business. The Aetna Company has set aside $250,000 cash for the people in this area. Over $1,000,000 of increased business activity would result from getting this money into immediate circulation.

Residents here are invited to apply for amounts of $50 to $150, then spend it for needed things or to pay bills. The money may be obtained on name only, the same day.

"We don't recommend needless borrowing," said the Aetna manager, "but very often it is a sensible way to get new things or a new, fresh start." Those interested are asked to phone or see Aetna Finance, 48 N. Centre St., PA 4-6800. (Loans over $300 made under Md. Industrial Finance Act.)

WINS 7TH STRAIGHT — Here's Brinkley "Bink" Barlow, Potomac State College's pitching ace, who registered his seventh consecutive victory of the season at the expense of Frostburg State Teachers College yesterday in a 5-1 contest at Keyser. Barlow, who hails from Cheltenham, Pa., is 5-feet-10 and tips the beam at 160 pounds. In yesterday's game "Bink" yielded an unearned run in the first inning and then blanked the Bobcats for eight frames. He whiffed nine and issued only two passes. The Catamounts' southpaw has struck out 59 in seven games.

Cubs Drop 6th Game In Row To St. Louis Cards

Musial Gets 2,999th Hit In 6-4 Victory

CHICAGO (AP)—Stan Musial doubled in his first time at bat for his 2,999th hit Monday, then was blanked while his St. Louis Cardinal teammates banged Chicago Cub pitching nearly at will for a 6-4 victory.

The loss was the Cubs' sixth straight and their fifth in a row to the Cardinals.

Warren Giles, president of the National League, and other baseball luminaries were among the 5,083 watching the game with the hope that Stan the Man would enter the charmed 3,000-hit circle.

He may gain the mark reached by only seven other immortals in the two-game series closer in Wrigley Field Tuesday.

Musial smashed a two-bagger to the left center wall off starter and loser Glenn Hobbie in his first place appearance. Then he walked on four pitches in the third inning, bounced out to the pitcher in both the fifth and sixth and was thrown out by Johnny Goryl, who moved over from third to second base, in the eighth inning.

In all the Cardinals collected 10 hits off three hurlers and bunched four of them along with two errors and a walk for four decisive runs in the fifth inning.

Schmidt, Lynch Fight To Draw

NEW YORK (AP)—Pete (Split Decision) Schmidt scored a flash knockdown in the last 15 seconds Monday night and pulled out a draw with favored Eddie (Pigeons) Lynch in a television 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena. Both are from New York. Schmidt weighed 148, Lynch 147.

The knockdown — which Lynch claimed was from a push — proved the difference in the scoring. All three officials gave Schmidt the final round.

Referee Harry Ebbets voted for Lynch 6-3-1. Judge Jack Gordon voted for Schmidt, 5-4-1. Judge Mike Davidowitch had it even, 5 rounds and 7 points for each. The AP card had them even at 5-5.

Schmidt, the aggressor most of the way, was behind in the final round when he caught Lynch in a neutral corner and let go with his right hand. Some observers said it was a phantom punch while Lynch and his handlers claimed it was a right to the side and a push.

Yankees May Lose Skowron 3 Weeks

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill (Moose) Skowron, the bruising but often bruised first baseman of the New York Yankees, remained "awfully uncomfortable" at Lenox Hill Hospital Monday and worried club officials were debating whether to place him on the disabled list.

Yankee Doctor Sydney Gaynor said he could not give an accurate estimate as to how long Skowron, who tore a muscle in his back Sunday, would be out of the lineup. All indications pointed to the slugger being sidelined for a minimum of three weeks.

Bob Fishel, club public relations director, said Skowron, 27, would remain in the hospital for at least three more days and then he would be forced to wear a specially fitted corset for another week. He could not say when Skowron would rejoin the team.

Wheeling To Stage West Virginia Derby

WHEELING (AP)—The management of Wheeling Downs announced that the West Virginia Derby will be held during the summer meeting for the first time this year.

General Manager Robert G. Leavitt said the three-year old stakes affair will be intended as the highlight of the year at the track and will be repeated annually.

The Derby will be run at 1 1/4 mile. The purse and closing day will be announced by Leavitt on May 31, closing day of the current meeting.

Fort Hill Meet Set For Today

A victim on three previous occasions when the weather went democratic, the Fort Hill High School Invitational Track and Field Meet will be staged at the stadium today at 3:30 p. m. — weather permitting.

This is the 12th year for the Fort Hill meet and all eyes will be on Montgomery Blair High School's Blazers from Silver Spring, who have romped to victory the past three years. Fort Hill's seventh and last victory was in 1954. Handley was the other winner — in 1953.

Martinsburg and Beall will vie with the Blazers and Sentinels in today's four-team meet of 15 events.

WVU Is Eliminated From Baseball Race

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—West Virginia and Richmond took turns souring each other's Southern Conference title hopes by splitting even in a baseball doubleheader here Monday.

West Virginia copped the opener, 7-5, but Richmond won the nightcap, 5-4.

The split dropped Richmond's erstwhile conference leaders into a first-place tie with Davidson and eliminated West Virginia from championship contention. Both Richmond and Davidson are 7-2 in conference play with two games to go. West Virginia finished with a 5-3 conference ledger.

Musial To Miss Contest Today

Gets Opportunity For 3,000th Hit At Home

CHICAGO (AP)—Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinal batting star who needs one more hit to reach 3,000, will not get the opportunity Tuesday.

Cardinal Manager Fred Hutchinson decided Monday night that he would bench Musial "because Stan has always expressed the desire to make his 3,000th hit in St. Louis."

The Cardinals leave Chicago after their game Tuesday and meet the San Francisco Giants at St. Louis Wednesday night.

Hutchinson said, however, that if the situation arises where a pinch batter would be needed, he would use Musial.

Musial was not available for comment after Hutchinson's announcement.

After Monday's 6-4 St. Louis victory over the Chicago Cubs in which he collected hit No. 2,999 with a first inning double, Musial told reporters:

"I'll get it tomorrow and I'll make it a good clean shot."

Tigers Buy Susce, Red Sox Twirler

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers Monday purchased George Susce, a right hand pitcher, from the Boston Red Sox for an undisclosed amount of cash.

The Tigers made room for Susce by optioning pitcher George Spencer to their Charleston, W. Va., farm club on 24-hour recall.

Susce, 25, has appeared in two games in relief for Boston this season without a decision. He has an overall major league pitching record of 18 victories and 14 defeats.

Gone Fishin' Is Preakness Prep Winner

Stay-sail Second, Li'l Fella Third

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mrs. Richard E. Lunn's 'Gone Fishin'' moved easily ahead entering the stretch and went on to win the Preakness Prep handily Monday.

'Gone Fishin'', eighth in the Kentucky Derby, took the $3,900 first prize by a length and three-quarters from Christiana Stable's Stay-sail, Jaclyn Stable's Li'l Fella was third and Alec J. Bullock's Mickey Boy fourth.

There was no betting on the prep since they were the only starters.

'Gone Fishin'', ridden by Ralph Neves, covered the mile and sixteenth prep distance in an easy going 1:46, four seconds off the Pimlico track record. The $100,000 added Preakness is an eighth of a mile longer.

Li'l Fella was promptly declared out of the Preakness while Stay-sail's handlers said they will not make a decision until Wednesday.

Card of Thanks

WE wish to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their kindness extended to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our husband and father, Robert L. Edwards, Sr. We especially wish to thank Rev. Lewis E. Evers for his kind words, and the members of the church for their kind words and contributions, donated cards or assistance in any manner.

WIFE AND FAMILY

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of father and daughter who are missed very much. Virgil (Bud) Mongold, Diana Lee and Sandra Kaye, who met death by drowning in the South Branch, one year ago today, May 13th, 1957. The angels are safely guarding them. The sacred and silent graves. For in them lie the precious ones. We loved and could not save. The flowers we place upon their graves will never pass away. Though their bodies are gone forever and their faces we cannot touch. We shall never lose sweet memories of the ones we loved so much. May God give them peace. Their loving wife and mother, Rosalie Mongold and sister, Vickie Mongold and all the Mallow family.

CHRYSLER NEW YORKER '57 CHRYSLER

4-dr. Hardtop

This is a local one owner car. You can talk to the former business man that kept this car in tip-top condition. The all black finish and bright chrome looks like new. The contrasting green interior is spotless. The equipment includes power windows, power steering, power brakes, radio, heater, defroster, white sidewall tires, signal lights, back lights, windshield washer, side mirrors, push button controlled transmission and all the other small accessories. The V-8, 345 h.p. engine is perfect. To duplicate this car today it would cost over $5500 and our special price only . . .

Mental Exam Delays Trial

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—Federal Judge Albert V. Bryan Monday ordered a mental examination for one of two men charged with the fatal beating and stabbing of a Lorton reformatory guard.

Judge Bryan postponed the murder trial of Gumsindro P. Gomez, 28, and John F. Schoeppe, 25, until an examination determines whether Gomez is competent to stand trial.

Gomez appeared in court for the beginning of the trial with cuts on his face and throat. He was wearing fresh bandages.

"I got up this morning and there was cuts there," he told the court, "but I can't tell you how it got there."

Lt. Robert M. Depero of the District of Columbia jail said he found Gomez alone in a cell earlier today, stripped to the waist with "scratches on his neck and face." Depero said Gomez' "extremely long finger nails" had blood beneath them.

Gomez' attorney had asked for a postponement of the trial so his client could be given a mental examination.

The two defendants are charged with the slaying of Michael J. Hughes, 40, of Hoadley, Va., while he was making rounds in a dormitory at the reformatory last Feb. 13.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Skin Radiance For You

Your neck, shoulders and back are easy to keep in about-face condition. All you need is a little equipment and a good will. The total equipment consists of the familiar, long-handled back brush covered with a soft rubber sponge, a piece of white string for tying the sponge to the brush, a grainy cleanser, and a lubricant (body oil, baby lotion or a medicated cream if the skin is blemished).

Mix equal parts of your lubricant and cleanser. Secure the sponge to the brush and saturate it with your mixture. During your bath or shower, after your soap lathering, massage your neck, shoulders and upper arms with the treated sponge for about three minutes. Then, rinse, remove the sponge from your brush, lather again, and bristle-cleanse the area.

When your bath is complete, clean the sponge and attach it again to the brush. Saturate it with your lubricant (no cleanser this time) and cover every inch of your back. Lie face down for fifteen minutes to allow for a "Soak in." If you have a sun lamp, now is the time to relax under its beneficial rays, particularly if your back is blemished.

For perfection by summer, give your back this treatment every day for a week and once each week thereafter.

For the extra-special evening, use your sponge-brush combination again at make-up time. Take your well-cleansed and wrung-out sponge and dip it into the foundation that you use on your face and smooth it over your back, neck, shoulders, and arms. Let it dry and don't be alarmed if it's streaky. You can blend the streaks by pulling a Turkish towel evenly across and up and down your back. The remaining film will be smooth and won't rub off on your clothes or your dancing partner's.

Market Off; Drug Shares Lose On Antitrust Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Drug shares took losses on an antitrust action and an irregular stock market took a moderate loss Monday.

It was a highly selective affair with some impressive gains by selected issues and most of the trading favorites on the upside.

The pivotal issues which make up the popular averages were definitely on the downside, however. Once again, many of the gainers were lower-priced stocks.

Volume was up to 2,780,000 shares compared with 2,760,000 on Friday.

Drug shares tripped on word that five of them had been indicted on charges of antitrust violations in the sale of polio vaccine to federal, state and local governments.

Most leading aircrafts were higher on brighter outlook for labor negotiations and also on some favorable Wall Street comment. Steels were a shade lower although industry output was scheduled higher. The major motors, rails, coppers, oil and rubbers declined.

It was a modest decline from the latest in a series of new highs for 1958 and some profit taking was apparent. Overall background included such favorable items as an upturn in retail sales, a rise in housing starts for April and a decline in the number of workers drawing unemployment benefits.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 80 cents to $169.10 with the industrials down 80 cents, the rails down $1.20 and the utilities off 20 cents.

The Pennsylvania Dutch came originally not from the Netherlands, but from Switzerland and the Rhineland.

Flood Control Project Pushed As Water Drops

150 Workers Begin Returning To Jobs

About 150 flood control workers will go back to their jobs this week as water in Wills Creek and the Potomac River returns to normal.

Skeleton crews report today for part of the jobs and full forces to others, but all phases of the project will be in full swing by the middle of the week.

About four feet of water was coursing through Wills Creek yesterday. This is about a foot higher than normal but low enough to allow the contractors to begin preparing the work areas.

Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers, said last week's high waters did some damage to earth coffer dams and haul roads but that the delay was the most serious effect.

On Sections 2 and 3 of Wills Creek, E. J. Albrecht crews yesterday were repairing damage to the coffer dam.

Water is to be pumped from the working area overnight so that work may resume today.

Similar work was under way downstream, as Hazelwood crews were repairing coffer dams and rebuilding haul oads so heavy equipment can be moved into the creek bed.

Work on the approaches to the Baltimore Street Bridge was being expedited yesterday. The span was scheduled to be opened June 1 but rains have delayed work on the approaches.

Major progress during the past week was made on the Western Maryland-Baltimore and Ohio interchange bridge.

Girders for the span have been set in place, and steel workers yesterday were riveting on cross bracing.

Excavation in the channel of the Potomac River is expected to begin today or tomorrow. Rip-rap work has continued through the spring rains.

L. M. Wilson, Former City Attorney, Dies

Lewis Milnor Wilson, 58, well-known Cumberland attorney and former city solicitor, died at 8:40 p. m. last night at the Allegheny County Infirmary where he had been a patient for almost a year.

Mr. Wilson, who resided on Fayette Street, had been in failing health for several years. He entered the infirmary on May 16, 1957.

He was born September 10, 1899, in Eckhart, a son of the late Verdeen B. and Beulah (Isaacs) Wilson.

He practiced law in Cumberland since 1922 and was city attorney under the administration of Mayor George Legge from 1934 to 1936.

Mr. Wilson also had been a member and chairman of the Allegheny County GOP Committee. He was a former attorney for the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners and had been the attorney for the Baltimore and Ohio relief department for a number of years.

Mr. Wilson attended Allegheny High School and was graduated from Charlotte Hall Military Academy. He attended the U. S. Military Academy and later was graduated from the University of Maryland Law School, class of 1922.

The attorney was a member of Centre Street Methodist Church; Potomac Lodge 100, AF&M; BPO Elks Lodge 63; Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, and the Allegheny County Bar Association. He was a veteran of World War I.

Mr. Wilson is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Roy A. Malone, Cumberland, and an aunt, Miss Anna E. Wilson, of Hagerstown. The body is at the George Funeral Home, where the family will receive friends from 2 until 4 p. m. and from 7 until 9 p. m. Funeral arrangements are not yet completed.

Senate Scramble: Pollack Lied, Says Bruce; Mahoney Claims Support; 'Action,' Says D'Alesandro

Democratic candidates for their party's nomination to the U. S. Senate warmed up their race a little yesterday. Developments:

James Bruce said Baltimore political leader James H. Pollack told a "deliberate lie" about him.

George P. Mahoney claimed the home territory of Baltimore's Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, and D'Alesandro promised action on unemployment at the Indian Head Naval Powder Factory if he gets elected.

COPE Rally Is Planned

The Committee on Political Education of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO, will sponsor a rally tomorrow from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. in the Woodmen of the World home on Union Street.

All candidates are being invited to attend the informal rally. Special invitations are being extended to ladies to attend the get-together. Refreshments will be served.

F. Patrick Allender, who as president of the central labor body heads the COPE organization, will preside.

The rally, according to Stanley Zerick, secretary, is being planned as an informal meeting where members of area labor unions and their wives may meet candidates in the May 20 primary.

Further organization of the COPE committee will be made today at 7:30 p. m. as the Western Maryland Central Labor Council holds its May meeting in the Allegheny Labor Temple.

Escapees Fight Return To TB Sanitarium

CORBIN, Ky. — Three escaped convicts, captured by city police early Monday, said they would fight attempts to return them to a West Virginia tuberculosis sanitarium.

"We're going to make all the trouble we can," said Ted McKinney. "We don't want to go back to Hopewell Sanitarium, where we didn't get treatment for our illness."

McKinney, William E. Kearns, 46, of Elkins, W. Va., and Thurman Rice, 30, of Charleston, W. a., were arrested by officers making a routine check of cars. They fled the Terra Alta institution last Wednesday with William Elkins and Walter Lee White, 35, of Marshall County.

Elkins, serving a life term from Raleigh County, was shot to death last Saturday at a Beckley, W. Va., apartment house. White is still at large.

Police Chief Bill Root said McKinney, 28, told him the men were not being treated at Hopewell Sanitarium and that "medicine was dispensed only to certain patients."

He also told Root that White apparently was somewhere in West Virginia, but did not elaborate.

McKinney was serving 10 years for breaking and entering. Kearns was serving a life term for murder and Rice was serving life as an habitual criminal.

Root said the men would be transferred to the Whitley County Jail at Williamsburg and placed in isolation cells.

New Creek Woman Drowning Victim

West Virginia authorities have ruled that Mrs. Beulah May Smith, 54, of New Creek, died as a result of drowning last Tuesday. Her body was recovered from New Creek about four miles south of Keyser.

Donald Hott, prosecuting attorney of Mineral County, said her death has been listed as a suicide. The woman was reported to have been despondent. A note was found at her home by a son, Robert Smith.

A Lie, Says James Bruce

BALTIMORE (AP)—James Bruce declared Monday that James H. (Jack) Pollack told "a flat, plain and deliberate lie" when he said Bruce offered him a job in exchange for his support in Maryland's Democratic senatorial primary.

Pollack, insurance man and northwest Baltimore Democratic leader, is supporting Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro against Bruce and five others for nomination to the U. S. Senate.

In a statement from his Baltimore headquarters, Bruce said:

"You no doubt read that James H. Pollack has stated that I offered him any federal job in my power to give in return for his support in the primary election. Denies Deal

"I could say that Pollack is mistaken. "I could tell you that he was indulging in a bit of free-wheeling fancy when he made this statement.

"I could say that this is a mere nonsensical fabrication cooked up in desperation as the tide turns against his handpicked candidate.

"I prefer to characterize the Pollack statement for what it is—a flat, plain and deliberate lie." Bruce said he had "never sought to negotiate a deal with Pollack."

"As far as federal jobs are concerned I understood the mayor to say some time ago that he wasn't interested in the United States senatorship because the only patronage involved was two elevator operators' jobs.

"I suggest that Pollack apply for one of those. It might enable him to rise out of the cellar once in a while."

Bruce also challenged Pollack's recent statement that he "always urges the election of Democrats."

Consulted By McKeldin

"This is the kind of make-believe party loyalty talk that gags people who can remember Pollack's past record," he said. "In 1950 he threw his Fourth (Legislative) District to Republican Gov. McKeldin against (then-Gov. W. Preston) Lane."

In return, Bruce said, Pollack "was consulted by McKeldin on city appointments, and I do not believe even Mr. Pollack would care to deny this charge."

Bruce also said Pollack "passed the word" among his organization members to back Republican J. Glenn Beall in the 1952 general election against George P. Mahoney, who is also running in the Democratic primary this year.

Mahoney Claims 'Tommy' District

BALTIMORE (AP)—George P. Mahoney laid claim Monday night to the home territory of his foremost opponent, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, in their fight for Maryland's Democratic senatorial nomination.

The Baltimore County paving contractor spent the day on a door-to-door tour of Baltimore's First Legislative District, where the mayor resides.

His headquarters later issued a statement saying Mahoney's reception by residents of the district was "terrific" and quoting Mahoney as saying:

"On the basis of what I have seen with my own eyes and heard with my own ears, I'm counting on the First District to be in my column on May 20."

The headquarters statement also said Mahoney had been endorsed by the United Democrats of Kent County, a group headed by J. Laurance Nicholson of Chestertown, operator of a trucking business.

D'Alesandro Makes Promise

LA PLATA, Md. — Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore promised Charles contains Monday he would press for relief of the unemployment situation at the Indian Head Naval Powder Factory if elected Maryland's next senator.

"I pledge you that if I'm sent to the U. S. Senate to represent you," the Baltimore mayor said "I will get action at Indian Head."

"That is a promise," he said in a primary campaign speech prepared for delivery at a Democratic meeting, "but, more than that, it is a promise that will be kept."

D'Alesandro's appearance at Charles County came after several days and nights of touring Baltimore City after a swing around counties throughout the state with his "harmony" ticket running mates — J. Millard Tawes for comptroller, Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert for renomination, and State Sen. Louis L. Goldstein for comptroller.

"Anyone can promise action," D'Alesandro said, "but I'm asking

Health Department Sanitarians Are Busy

Visits to 147 food establishments led the list of activities of Health Department sanitarians during March.

The staff also made 67 calls on sewage complaints or installations and visited 86 dairy farms and 13 milk plants during the month. Collected for laboratory analysis were 157 water and 382 milk samples, and 33 swab tests were made in eating establishments.

The department approved 17 septic tanks, noted improvements in three water supplies and aided in the elimination of three dumps.

Toynbee Talks: British Historian Lectures Only 170 Miles From Here

By ALBERT D. DARBY

News Staff Writer

In a world where the big and the loud are sometimes mistaken for the great, important events may happen in some seemingly obscure places.

Such a place is Lexington, Va., a sleepy little town of some 6,000 inhabitants some 170 miles south of Cumberland. Donald A. Workman, social studies teacher at Fort Hill High School, and I drove to Lexington last Friday.

As we stopped in a diner which has been a Lexington institution for years, the man behind the counter told us that things were pretty much the same there as they had been between 1939 and 1943 when I was an undergraduate at Washington and Lee University. "Nothing much ever happens here," he observed.

From the diner we drove a couple of short blocks to Lee Chapel, where Robert E. Lee is buried. Soon probably 400 other people arrived in the chapel. In a little while, a distinguished looking white-haired man wearing a dark suit and with a little mud on his shoes arrived and walked to the platform. Then, Dr. Edward D. Myers, professor of philosophy at W&L, introduced the speaker and the lecture began.

"The Triumph of Technology and the Flight from the Land into the Cities" was the subject of the lecture we heard by Dr. Arnold J. Toynbee, the eminent British historian who is a visiting

Social Security Manager Welcomed

James A. Gwinn, newly appointed manager of the Cumberland District office of Social Security is shown at right being greeted by his predecessor, S. Leigh Wolfe, who has been promoted to the division of field operations, Baltimore. Mr. Gwinn comes here from Bristol, Va.

James A. Gwinn Will Head SS Office Here

S. Leigh Wolfe Is Promoted

The appointment of James A. Gwinn as district manager of the Cumberland office of the Social Security Administration was announced yesterday by Edmund Baxter, regional director of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Mr. Gwinn succeeds S. Leigh Wolfe, who has been promoted to a position in the Division of Field Operations, Social Security Administration, Baltimore.

Mr. Gwinn comes here from Bristol, Va., where he has been assistant district manager since October 1956. Before moving to Bristol he was employed in Social Security district offices in Welch, W. Va., Lynchburg, Va., and Washington.

Born in Summers County, W. Va., Mr. Gwinn graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1950. He holds an A.B. degree with major studies in psychology.

He is married and has four children. He expects to move his family here after the end of the present school term.

Mr. Wolfe, who was here only a few months, succeeded James Robertson on February 10. Before coming to Cumberland, Mr. Wolfe was employed in Social Security district offices in Fayetteville, N.C., Norfolk, Va., and Wheeling, W. Va. In 1956, Mr. Wolfe was one of two employees in a seven-state area to be selected for special supervisory training at the Central Office of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

Today Final Day For Registration At City Hall

Today at 5 p. m. is the deadline for voters to register for the city's primary and general election.

The primary is scheduled June 3 and the general election June 17.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said 66 persons took advantage of the Saturday office hours to register. That made a total of 106 for the two Saturdays the office was open. As of yesterday, 193 had registered this month.

Half of those registering Saturday came from the South End area.

The city registration office is located in the basement of City Hall with entrance off Bedford Street.

No Action Yet In Death Of Local Woman

West Virginia authorities last night said they have taken no further action in the death of Mrs. Emma Smith, of Emily Street, Cumberland, who was found dead in the Potomac River on Sunday.

Donald C. Hott, prosecuting attorney for Mineral County, said he had been out of town on other business arrangements and had not yet received a report on an autopsy which he ordered.

He said he expected to determine what action his office will take in the case after he receives the report today.

Funeral services for Mrs. Smith will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Silcox Funeral Residence here.

Rev. Louis L. Emerick, pastor of Zion Methodist Church, will officiate and interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Searchers found Mrs. Smith's body in the river after dragging the waters at Wiley Ford for two days. It was discovered lodged beneath a log about 50 feet from where the woman's purse and footprints were found along the river bank on Friday morning.

Mineral County authorities questioned a Cumberland taxicab driver in the case but released him Saturday.

The body is at the funeral home where members of Cumberland Chapter 56, Order of Eastern Star, will conduct a service to night at 8 o'clock.

Hearing Scheduled In Robbery Case

A hearing for the purpose of setting bond has been scheduled this morning in Trial Magistrates Court for a 21-year-old New York youth who has been charged with robbery here.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya said a robbery charge has been placed against Donald D. Milks who authorities say admitted he held up Mason's Jug Store on Williams Street in November 1956.

Milks was brought to Allegheny County last week by Lilya and Lt. James E. Van of the Cumberland Police Department from Elmira, N. Y., where he had been released Saturday from a New York reformatory.

Milks is being held in Allegheny County Jail.

Local 26 To Meet

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, will meet Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall.

Westernport Residents Seek Injunction

$25,000 Damages Also Claimed

Three Westernport residents and property owners have filed an equity suit in Allegheny County Circuit Court seeking to enjoin the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport to abate a nuisance allegedly caused by the pollution of a stream running through their property.

A claim for $25,000 damages also is included in the action against the Westernport town officials.

Jacob V. Wilson, Thelma R. Wilson, his wife, and Marshall Wilson, Westernport, through attorneys Thomas Lohr Richards, this city, and H. G. Shores, Keyser, brought the equity action over the weekend.

The bill of complaint cites that the Jacob Wilsons own a tract on Main Street Extended, also known as State Route 36, in Westernport, which is improved by a filling station, repair shop, a building for the sale of automobiles and appliances, a grocery store and a public restaurant with an apartment above it. Marshall Wilson leases and operates the filling station.

At the time this property was purchased in 1945, the suit contends a stream of pure water flowed through the property. However, growth of Westernport on the higher land east of their property has resulted in the dumping of sewage and surface drainage which have polluted the stream. Only the new school has disposal facilities.

This stream overflows at times and sewage and other filth runs into some of the buildings on the property, the complainants charge. The bill of complaint adds that for the past three years requests and demands have been made of the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport to abate the nuisance. A formal petition also was sent to the State Board of Health last month but no action has been taken by that state agency, according to the bill.

Besides requesting a court order compelling the Mayor and Commissioners to abate the nuisance, the complainants want the defendants held liable for damages for placing 48-inch pipe on their property, for overflow of water, sewage and filth upon the complainants' property and for structural damage to the complainants' property.

City Collects 82 Per Cent Of $2,005,860 Levy

The City of Cumberland ended the 10th month of its fiscal year on April 30 with 82.28 per cent of its total levy collected and with 98 per cent of its tax levy in as spending lagged 10 points below par.

A report on the Condition of the Levy, issued yesterday by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson showed that $1,693,847.10 of the record $2,005,860 levy had been collected, and that one money source — state racing income — was $5,551.04 higher than anticipated.

Tax collections of $1,185,359.54 represent 98 per cent of the charge. The bill of complaint adds that for the past three years requests and demands have been made of the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport to abate the nuisance. A formal petition also was sent to the State Board of Health last month but no action has been taken by that state agency, according to the bill.

Besides requesting a court order compelling the Mayor and Commissioners to abate the nuisance, the complainants want the defendants held liable for damages for placing 48-inch pipe on their property, for overflow of water, sewage and filth upon the complainants' property and for structural damage to the complainants' property.

One appropriation, for sewers and ejector station, was overdrawn by $2,607.71. This will not affect the general levy, as maintenance of sewers is now lumped with the sewage treatment plant and all costs met by sewer service charges to users.

Most departments appeared to be operating within their budgets. Some budgets will be drastically lower by the end of May.

The Fire Department, for example, had a balance of $64,410.81 from its $268,200 allotment. But the current month's spending will show a $12,500 payment toward the new fire truck for Central Fire Company, and another $3,850.60 for a new fire alarm control board at Central.
